THE CONVENTION BETWEEN THE GOVERNMENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA AND THE GOVERNMENT OF THE POLISH PEOPLE'S REPUBLIC FOR THE AVOIDANCE OF DOUBLE TAXATION AND THE PREVENTION OF FISCAL EVASION WITH RESPECT TO INCOME, AND A RELATED EXCHANGE OF NOTES, SIGNED AT WASHINGTON ON OCTOBER 8, 1974

LETTER OF SUBMITTAL

DEPARTMENT OF STATE,
Washington, December 11, 1974.

THE PRESIDENT,
The White House.

The PRESIDENT: I have the honor to submit to you, with a view to its transmission to the Senate for advice and consent to ratification, the Convention between the Government of the United States of America and the Government of the Polish People's Republic for the Avoidance of Double Taxation and the Prevention of Fiscal Evasion with Respect to Income, and a related exchange of notes, signed at Washington on October 8, 1974.

The Convention deals mainly with Federal income taxes in the case of the United States and with substantially similar income taxes specified in Article 2 (2) (a) in the case of Poland. The provision relating to nondiscrimination applies, however, to taxes of every kind imposed at the national, state, or local level.

This Convention is similar to other recent tax conventions concluded by this government. It incorporates the same basic principles with respect to the taxation of business income, personal service income and income from investments, and includes provisions for nondiscriminatory tax treatment and for reciprocal administrative cooperation.

Pursuant to this Convention profits derived by a business enterprise of one country would be subject to taxation by the other country only to the extent that the profits are attributable to a "permanent establishment" in that other country. Employees of a firm are not taxable by the host country on their personal service income unless the services are performed there during a stay lasting longer than six months during the taxable year concerned. Withholding taxes imposed on income going from one country to residents of the other country will be limited to 15 percent on portfolio dividends, 5 percent on dividends from a share holding of 10 percent or more, and 10 percent on royalties and film rentals, and interest will be exempt from tax. In the absence of a convention the United States tax rate has been 30 percent of the gross amount, and the Polish tax, although computed at graduated rates, also reaches 30 percent of the gross amount.

A technical memorandum explaining in detail the provisions and effect of the Convention is being prepared by the Department of the Treasury and will be submitted to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee for consideration in connection with the Convention.

Upon entry into force, this Convention will be effective from January 1, 1974, and will remain in force for a minimum period of five years. After the initial five year period it will remain in force indefinitely until terminated by either State.

The Department of the Treasury, with the cooperation of the Department of State, was primarily responsible for the negotiation of the Convention. It has the approval of both Departments.

Respectfully submitted,

ROBERT S. INGERSOLL.

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

THE WHITE HOUSE, January 23, 1975.

To the Senate of the United States:

I transmit herewith, for Senate advise and consent to ratification, the Convention between the Government of the United States of America and the Government of the Polish People's Republic for the Avoidance of Double Taxation and the Prevention of Fiscal Evasion with Respect to Income as well as a related exchange of notes.

I also transmit for the information of the Senate, the report of the Department of State with respect to this Convention.

The Convention was signed on October 8, 1974, during the visit to Washington of Polish First Secretary Edward Gierek and is the first income tax convention between the two countries. The Convention is similar to other income tax conventions recently concluded by this Government and it is expected to encourage and support the growing interest in bilateral trade and investment between the two countries. It provides rules of tax jurisdiction, reduces or eliminates tax liability in certain cases, ensures nondiscriminatory tax treatment and provides for administrative cooperation.

I recommend that the Senate give this Convention and related exchange of notes early and favorable consideration and give its advice and consent to ratification.

GERALD R. FORD.

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

The Senate of the United States of America by its resolution of November 18, 1975, two-thirds of the Senators present concurring therein, gave its advice and consent to ratification of the Convention and related notes;

It is provided in Article 25 of the Convention that the Convention shall enter into force thirty days after the date of exchange of instruments of ratification, with effectiveness from January 1, 1974, with respect to income;

(5) An enterprise of a Contracting State shall not be deemed to have a permanent establishment in the other Contracting State merely because it carries on business in that other State through a broker, general commission agent, or any other agent of an independent status, where such person is acting in the ordinary course of his business, whether or not such broker or agent acts exclusively for one or more principals.

(6) An enterprise of one of the Contracting States shall not be deemed to have a permanent establishment in the other Contracting State merely because such enterprise sells at the termination of a trade fair in such other Contracting State goods or merchandise which such enterprise displayed at such trade fair.

(7) The fact that a company which is a resident of a Contracting State controls or is controlled by a company which is a resident of the other Contracting State, or which carries on business in that other Contracting State (whether through a permanent establishment or otherwise), shall not of itself constitute for either company a permanent establishment of the other.

ARTICLE 7

Income from Real Property

(1) Income from real property, including royalties and other payments in respect of the exploitation of natural resources and gains derived from the sale, exchange, or other disposition of such property or of the right giving rise to such royalties or other payments, may be taxed by the Contracting State in which such real property or natural resources are situated. For purposes of this Convention, interest on indebtedness secured by real property or secured by a right giving rise to royalties or other payments in this respect of the exploitation of natural resources shall not be regarded as income from real property.

(2) Paragraph (1) shall apply to income derived from the usufruct, direct use, letting, or use in any other form of real property.

ARTICLE 8 Business Profits

(1) The profits of an enterprise of a Contracting State shall be taxable only by that State unless the enterprise carries on business in the other Contracting State through a permanent establishment situated therein. If the enterprise carries on business as aforesaid, the profits of the enterprise may be taxed by the other Contracting State but only so much of them as is attributable to that permanent establishment.

(2) Where an enterprise of a Contracting State carries on business in the other Contracting State through a permanent establishment situated therein, there shall in each Contracting State be attributed to that permanent establishment the profits which it might be expected to make if it were a distinct and separate enterprise engaged in the same or similar activities under the same or similar conditions and dealing wholly independently with the enterprise of which it is a permanent establishment.

(3) In the determination of the profits of a permanent establishment there shall be allowed as deductions expenses which are incurred for the purposes of the permanent establishment, including executive and general administrative expenses so incurred, whether in the State in which the permanent establishment is situated or elsewhere.

(4) No profits shall be attributed to a permanent establishment by reason of the mere purchase by that permanent establishment, or by the enterprise of which it is a permanent establishment, of goods or merchandise for the enterprise.

(5) Where profits include items of income which are dealt with separately in other articles of this Convention, the provisions of those articles shall, except as otherwise provided therein, supercede the provisions of this Article.

ARTICLE 9 Shipping and Air Transport

(2) Notwithstanding Articles 8 and 14, income which a resident of the United States derives from the operation in international traffic of ships or aircraft registered in the United States shall be exempt from tax by Poland.

(3) For purposes of this Article, income derived from the operation in international traffic of ships or aircraft also includes-

(a) An enterprise of a Contracting State participates directly or indirectly in the management, control, or capital of an enterprise of the other Contracting State, or

(b) The same persons participate directly or indirectly in the management, control, or capital of an enterprise of a Contracting State and an enterprise of the other Contracting State, and in either case conditions are made or imposed in their commercial or financial relations which differ from those which would be made between independent enterprises, then any profits which would, but for those conditions, have accrued to one of the enterprises, but, by reason of those conditions, have not so accrued, may be included in the profits of that enterprise and taxed accordingly.

(2) Where an adjustment has been made by one Contracting State to the income of one of its residents in accordance with paragraph (1), then the other Contracting State shall, if it agrees with such redetermination, make a corresponding adjustment to the income of a person in such other Contracting State related to such resident. In the event the other Contracting State disagrees with such redetermination, the two Contracting States shall endeavor to reach agreement in accordance with the mutual agreement procedure in Article 22.

ARTICLE 11 Dividends

(1) Dividends paid by a company which is a resident of a Contracting State to a resident of the other Contracting State may be taxed by that other Contracting State.

(2) However, such dividends may be taxed in the Contracting State of which the company paying the dividends is a resident, and according to the law of that State, but the tax so charged shall not exceed:

(a) 5 percent of the gross amount of the dividends if the recipient is a company which holds directly at least 10 percent of the outstanding shares of the voting stock of the company paying the dividends,

(b) In all other cases, 15 percent of the gross amount of the dividends.

This paragraph shall not affect the taxation of the company in respect of the profits out of which the dividends are paid.

(3) The provisions of paragraph (2) shall not apply if the recipient of the dividends, being a resident of a Contracting State, has in the other Contracting State, of which the company paying the dividends is a resident, a permanent establishment with which the holding by virtue of which the dividends are paid is effectively connected. In such a case, the provisions of Article 8 shall apply.

ARTICLE 12

Interest

(1) Interest arising in a Contracting State and paid to a resident of the other Contracting State shall be exempt from tax by the first-mentioned Contracting State.

(2) Paragraph (1) shall not apply if the recipient of the interest, being a resident of one of the Contracting States, has a permanent establishment in the other Contracting State and the indebtedness giving rise to the interest is effectively connected with such permanent establishment. In such a case, the provisions of Article 8 shall apply.

(3) Where, owing to a special relationship between the payer and the recipient or between both of them and some other person, the amount of interest paid, having regard to the debt-claim for which it is paid, exceeds the amount which would have been agreed upon by payer and the recipient in the absence of such relationship, the provisions of this Article shall apply only to the last-mentioned amount. In that case, the excess part of the payments shall remain taxable according to the law of each Contracting State, due regard being had to the other provisions of this Convention.

(4) The term “interest” as used in this Convention means income from bonds, debentures, Government securities, notes, or other evidence of indebtedness, whether or not secured and whether or not carrying a right to participate in profits, and debt claims of every kind, as well as all other income which, under the taxation law of the Contracting State in which the income arises, is assimilated to income from money lent.

(5) Interest shall be treated as arising in a Contracting State only if paid by such Contracting State, a political subdivision or a local authority thereof, or by a resident of that Contracting State. Notwithstanding the preceding sentence-

(a) If the person paying the interest (whether or not such person is a resident of one of the Contracting States) has a permanent establishment in one of the Contracting States in connection with which the indebtedness on which the interest is paid was incurred and such interest is borne by such permanent establishment, or

(b) If the person paying the interest is a resident of one of the Contracting States and has a permanent establishment in a State other than a Contracting State in connection with which the indebtedness on which the interest is paid was incurred and such interest is paid to a resident of the other Contracting State, and such interest is borne by such permanent establishment, such interest shall be deemed to arise in the State in which the permanent establishment is situated.

ARTICLE 13 Royalties

(1) Royalties arising in a Contracting State and paid to a resident of the other Contracting State shall be taxable by that other Contracting State.

(2) Royalties may be taxed in the Contracting State where they arise, and according to the law of that State, but the tax so charged shall not exceed 10 percent of the gross amount of the royalty.

(3) The term “royalties” as used in this Article means-

(a) Payments of any kind received as consideration for the use of, or the right to use, any copyright of a literary, artistic or scientific work, including copyrights of motion picture films or radio or television broadcasting tapes, any patent, trademark, design or model, plan, secret formula or process, or for information concerning industrial, commercial, or scientific experience or skill (know-how), and

(b) Gains derived from the sale, exchange, or other disposition of any such property or rights to the extent that the amounts realized on such sale, exchange, or other disposition for consideration are contingent on the productivity, use, or disposition of such property or rights.

(4) The provisions of paragraph (2) shall not apply if the recipient of the royalties, being a resident of a Contracting State, has in the other Contracting State in which the royalties arise, a permanent establishment with which the right or property giving rise to the royalties is effectively connected. In such a case, the provisions of Article 8 shall apply.

(5) Royalties shall be deemed to arise in a Contracting State only to the extent that such royalties are payments made as consideration for the use of, or the right to use, property or rights described in paragraph (3) within that Contracting State.

(6) Where, owing to a special relationship between the payer and the recipient or between both of them and some other person, the amount of the royalties paid, having regard to the use, right, or information for which they are paid, exceeds the amount which would have been agreed upon by the payer and the recipient in the absence of such relationship, the provisions of this Article shall apply only to the last-mentioned amount. In that case, the excess part of the payments shall remain taxable according to the law of each Contracting State, due regard being had to the other provisions of this Convention.

ARTICLE 14
Capital Gains

(1) A resident of one of the Contracting States shall be exempt from tax by the other Contracting State on gains from the sale, exchange, or other disposition of capital assets unless-

(2) Income described in paragraph (1) which is derived by an individual who is a resident of one of the Contracting States from the performance of personal services in an independent capacity in the other Contracting State may be taxed by that other Contracting State if the individual is present in that other Contracting State for a period or periods aggregating 183 days or more during the taxable year.

(3) The term "professional services" includes especially independent scientific, literary, and artistic activities, as well as the independent activities of physicians, lawyers, engineers, architects, dentists, journalists, and others.

If the employment is so exercised, such remuneration as is derived therefrom may be taxed by the other Contracting State.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (1), remuneration derived by a resident of a

Contracting State in respect of an employment exercised in the other Contracting State shall be taxable only by the first-mentioned Contracting State if:

(a) The recipient is present in the other Contracting State for a period or periods in the aggregate less than 183 days during the taxable year concerned, and

(b) The remuneration is paid by, or on behalf of, an employer who is not a resident of the other Contracting State, and

(3) Notwithstanding paragraph (2), remuneration derived by an individual from the performance of labor or personal services as an employee aboard ships or aircraft operated by a resident of one of the Contracting States in international traffic shall be exempt from tax by the other Contracting State if such individual is a member of the regular complement of the ship or aircraft.

ARTICLE 17

(1) Where a resident of one of the Contracting States is invited by the Government of the other Contracting State, a political subdivision or a local authority thereof, or by a university or other recognized educational institution in that other Contracting State to come to that other Contracting State for a period not expected to exceed 2 years for the purpose of teaching or engaging in research, or both, at a university or other recognized educational institution and such resident comes to that other Contracting State primarily for such purpose, his income from personal services for teaching or research at such university or educational institution shall be exempt from tax by that other Contracting State for a period not exceeding 2 years from the date of his arrival in that other Contracting State.

The benefits provided under Article 17 shall not be available to an individual if, during the immediately preceding period, such individual enjoyed the benefits of paragraph (1) of this Article.

ARTICLE 19

Governmental Functions

(1) Wages, salaries, and similar remuneration, including pensions, annuities, or similar benefits, paid from public funds of one of the Contracting States to a citizen of that Contracting State for labor or personal services performed as an employee of the national Government of that Contracting State, or any agency thereof, in the discharge of functions of a governmental nature shall be exempt from tax by the other Contracting State.

ARTICLE 20 Relief from Double Taxation

Double taxation of income shall be avoided in the following manner:

(1) In accordance with the provisions and subject to the limitations of the law of Poland (as it may be amended from time to time without changing the general principles hereof), Poland shall allow to a resident of Poland as a credit against the Polish tax the appropriate amount of taxes paid to the United States.

(2) In accordance with the provisions and subject to the limitations of the law of the United States (as it may be amended from time to time without changing the general principles hereof), the United States shall allow to a citizen or resident of the United States as a credit against the United States tax the appropriate amount of taxes paid to Poland and, in the case of a United States company owning at least 10 percent of the voting power of a Polish company from which it receives dividends in any taxable year, shall allow credit for the appropriate amount of taxes paid to Poland by the Polish company paying such dividends with respect to the profits out of which such dividends are paid. Such appropriate amount shall be based upon the amount of tax paid to Poland, but the credit shall not exceed that portion of the United States tax which such citizen's or resident's net income from sources within Poland or on income from sources outside of the United States bears to his entire net income for the same taxable year. (3) A company of one of the Contracting States, the capital of which is wholly or partly owned or controlled, directly or indirectly, by one or more residents of the other Contracting State, shall not be subjected in the first-mentioned Contracting State to any taxation or any requirement connected with taxation which is other or more burdensome than the taxation and requirements to which a company of the first-mentioned Contracting State carrying on the same activities, the capital of which is wholly or partly owned or controlled by one or more residents of a third State, is or may be subjected. However, this paragraph shall not require a Contracting State to grant to companies which are wholly or partly owned by residents of the other Contracting State tax benefits granted by special agreements to companies which are wholly or partly owned by residents of a third State.

(4) In this Article the term "taxation" means taxes of every kind and description, with the exception of the Treasury residence registration fee (opłata skarbową za zameldowanie). The contribution for the retirement fund (składka na cele emerytalne) made by Polish citizens shall be regarded as a tax.

(2) The competent authority shall endeavor, if the objection appears to it to be justified and if it is not itself able to arrive at an appropriate solution, to resolve the case by mutual agreement with the competent authority of the other Contracting State, with a view to the avoidance of taxation not in accordance with the Convention.

(3) No information shall be exchanged which would be contrary to public policy.

(4) If specifically requested by the competent authority of a Contracting State, the competent authority of the other Contracting State shall provide information under this article in the form of depositions of witnesses and copies of unedited original documents (including books, papers, statements, records, accounts, or writings), to the same extent such depositions and documents can be obtained under the laws and administrative practices of each Contracting State with respect to its own taxes.

NOTES OF EXCHANGE

DEPARTMENT OF STATE,
Washington, October 8, 1974.

His Excellency, STEFAN OLSZOWSKI,
Minister of Foreign Affairs of the Polish People's Republic

EXCELLENCY: I have the honor to refer to the Income Tax Convention between the Government of the United States and the Government of the Polish People's Republic signed today in Washington. During the course of negotiations, the question arose as to the effect of the Convention upon the income taxes imposed by the states of the United States.

In that connection, I should like to note that the individual states of the United States each have Constitutional authority to impose taxes within certain limitations. In light of this authority, the Government of the United States has not considered it appropriate to enter into income tax conventions which restrict or limit state taxes except to prohibit any state from imposing discriminatory taxes.

A review of the tax laws of the states of the United States indicates that these laws generally operate in such a manner that a resident of Poland entitled to a reduced rate of tax or to tax exemption under the Convention would not be subject to tax by the individual states. This is also the case as concerns Polish enterprises engaged in international traffic of ships or aircraft. Nevertheless, I should like to assure you that if necessary, the tax authorities of the United States will use their best efforts to secure exemption from any income taxes that may be imposed by any of the states of the United States on such shipping or airline enterprises.

Accept, Excellency, the assurances of my highest consideration.
